Poch (right) could only watch on as his Blues were demolished 4-1 by a rampant Toon.
He said: "We have to show personality. We cannot play this type of football."

ERIK TEN HAG believes the Premier League are right to enforce their Financial Fair Play regulations on clubs who break the rules.
The Man United boss (below) takes his team to Everton after the Merseysiders were docked 10 points for failing to meet profit and sustainability rules.
And although the Dutchman admitted he did not have enough information to comment on the severity of the punishment handed down to the Goodison club, he feels there must be a sanction for those teams who spend beyond the limits.
United were fined £257,000 in July for what was described as a "minor" breach.

And boss Pep Guardiola was forced to insist he had "no problem" with Liverpool striker Darwin Nunez - despite the pair having to be dragged apart by Jurgen Klopp after a furious touchline bust-up.
The Manchester City boss appeared angry at the final whistle after Trent Alexander-Arnold's equaliser had cost his side two points.
Asked what caused the row with Nunez, Guardiola said: "Nothing happened. He is stronger than me! There is no problem."
Kop boss Klopp insisted he was stunned by the altercation between the two. "I am the wrong person to ask," he said. "We're sorry."
